Division of Public Utilities and Carriers towing certificate

Obligatoria - Estado - Rhode Island Division of Public Utilities and Carriers

The Division regulates for-hire tow companies operating within Rhode Island. A certificated tower holds a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the Division to transport vehicles by the tow-away method, and certificated carriers file a certificate of liability insurance with the Division.

Ask the Division's Motor Carriers Section for the current application, insurance filing and fees.

Division-approved rates for non-consensual tows

Obligatoria - Estado - Rhode Island Division of Public Utilities and Carriers

Rates for tows performed without the prior consent of the owner or operator (police-ordered and private property tows) must be approved by the Division, and the tariff must be kept on file at your office for public review.

Owner notice, impound lot and record rules

Obligatoria - Estado - Rhode Island Division of Public Utilities and Carriers

A certificated tower that removes an abandoned or unattended vehicle must notify the registered owner by registered mail within seven days. For private trespass tows, the impound lot must be within ten miles of where the vehicle was removed and open for release during the hours vehicles are accepted. Keep bills, tariffs and insurance records for at least three years.

Sales tax: ask how your charges are taxed

Obligatorio en algunos casos - Estado - Rhode Island Division of Taxation

Rhode Island taxes parts sold by repairers; separately stated labor and service charges are not taxed. Ask the Division how your towing, storage and roadside charges are treated.

Name and USDOT number on trucks in interstate commerce

Obligatorio en algunos casos - Federal - Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration

Commercial motor vehicles subject to the federal rules show the carrier's name and USDOT number on both sides, in contrasting letters readable from 50 feet in daylight (49 CFR 390.21).
